读书，是人的生活中很有趣味儿的事。如果把工作比喻为攀登一座高山，把写作比喻为“戴着脚镣跳舞”，那么，读书，就好比是顺风行船，嘴里还能品尝着营养丰富的饼干。不管是书籍，还是报刊杂志，绝对不是文字的堆砌，而是一串串鲜活的形象和思想。打开树叶，就会有一股股的香味扑面而来，清新馥郁，淡淡的温馨。所以，古人早就创造了一个词语：书香门第，读者哟本新书，从书里面也会品尝到滋味的。酸甜苦辣咸，

无味俱全。所以，古人早就创作了一幅对联：“无情岁月增中减，有味诗书苦后甜。”可见，读书就是一种享受，一种高雅的享受。这是其他任何享受，都不可同日而语。

Once there was a little island in the ocean. That little island changes as the seasons come and go. The storm and the day and night change it. So do the lobsters and seals and gulls that stop by. Then one day a kitten visits the little island and learns a secret that every child will enjoy. Once there was a little island in the ocean. That little island changes as the seasons come and go. The storm and the day and night change it. So do the lobsters and seals and gulls that stop by. Then one day a kitten visits the little island and learns a secret that every child will enjoy.

When I first bought the book, my 20 month old son was not interested! He didn't get the idea of an island. I loved the little story, so I persisted in reading it to him. When the winds blew on the island, I blew in his face. When the spiders spun their webs, I gave him little spider bites. When it showed the "tickly smelling pear tree" I tickled him. When the lobsters came, so did my claws! We barked like seals when they came to the island, and we fed each other strawberries fresh off the page when spring came! When the seagull lay her eggs, I dared him to try to get them and then I protected them as if I was the mama seagull. Of course, he knows them as the "my, my" birds. The fish jumped, the crow cawed, the cat came and so did the storms. The louder I boomed like thunder and splatted like lightening, the more my little boy loved it!! This treasure of a book is more suitable for older children who can digest the moral of this story, but my 20 month old son now loves it too, thanks to a little physical interaction while reading it! Might I say, Ms. Brown's prose is beautifully descriptive as well as the illustrations! When I first bought the book, my 20 month old son was not interested! He didn't get the idea of an island.
